A Few Reasons Why You Should Buy in Clear Lake City

CLIMATE unsurpassed, winter or summer; perennial sunshine; no wind, no fog, no snow or ice; altitude about 1500 feet.

CLEAR LAKE CITY is surrounded by Mineral Springs and Summer resorts. Thousands of people who could go anywhere, choose this locality every year in which to spend the summer. It is delightful, summer or winter.

THE SPORSTMAN'S PARADISE; the best hunting and fishing in California. Quail, dove, pigeons and deer are found in great abundance, while the mountain streams are stocked with trout and the Lake is full of fish.

THE SOIL is fertile and will raise anything—flowers, fruits, vegetables and grain. A man can raise vegetables and fruit enough on two or three lots at Clear Lake City to support a family, on account of the fact that the climate is so equable that he can raise at least two or three crops a year, The townsite is mostly level, partly rolling, and none of it is steep or rocky. It is on the line of Two Projected Electric Railroads

After the electric roads are completed these lots will be worth $100 and upwards.

THE BEST REASON of all is that $10 gets you a deed and certificate of title to a lot in Clear Lake City, free and clear of all incumbrances. It is all you pay—no future payments.

SQUATTERS HAVE LIVELY TIME

Fence in Another Man's Claim in the Darkness---Wartime Opinion of James Buchanan.

In the latter portion of the year 1860 the Gazette began the publication of a series of articles descriptive of San Mateo county, dealing with the story of its settlement as well as with its attractions and business opportunities. One of the first of these articles deals in an entertaining vein with the incidents in the early settlements of Redwood City and is worthy of almost verbatum reproduction.

The first house was built in Redwood City in 1851 by Captain A. Smith, on the south side of Bridge street, near the creek. In 1852, the first vessel, the schooner "Redwood" was built. The first store was established in September, 1852, by William Shaw. The first hotel was established in 1853, in true early California style. It then possessed but a single room, with the then familiar ranges of bunks along its sides.

This was the year of "incidents" in the neighborhood. In the Summer of this year the opinion prevailed that the grant to the Pluggas Rancho would not be confirmed by the U. S. Land Commissioners, and as a consequence numbers of "squatters" made their appearance from the surrounding country and from San Francisco, ready to take possession of the supposed public lands. There were about 300 of the settlers, most of whom came fully armed, and proceeded to build shanties, measuring off 160 acres each, and took possession of the newly acquired property. The land most coveted was that lying between Redwood City and the San Francisquito creek. Many ludicrous occurrences took place during this squatter excitement. The favorite time for operations was during the night, and magic itself could not exceed the changes wrought by means of tents, shingle houses and splinter fences, during the hours of darkness, and often wrought so silently that no one knew of the changes until daylight revealed them. It frequently happened that several parties were attracted by a choice piece of ground, and having commenced fencing during the night, would discover their error only when the next morning showed the similarity of their labors. Of course, in such cases a fight ensued and the stronger and quickest party took possession. On one occasion a party commenced work fencing a piece of land during the night, and the next morning discovered in the center of their enclosure an occupied dwelling, built several days before, but which in their eagerness they had failed to notice. Fence rails, 16 to 20 of which would not make more than an ordinary armful, were at this time worth 25 cents each, and at this the venders grumbling at what they considered the extremely low price. Lumber commanded the enormous price of $50 per 1000 feet for rough boards at the mills four miles distant, and shingles sold readily at $10 per 1000.

A little cabin, 10 by 15 feet, near the county road opposite town, upon the Horace Hawes farm, was at this time in full operation as the "Pulgas Ranch House," where the traveling community were furnished with "accommodations for man and beast"—which consisted of a soft spot under a tree and a roll up in his own blankets, if he had any, for the man, while the beast was turned out on the plain.

At this time there was no bridge across the creek and a rather singular means of ferryage was used. The ferrying was done by foot passengers with the assistance of a huge pair of boots, in which the traveler encased his extremities and waded to the desired shore. Traditions of the time tell of a dimunitive individual who essayed the passage but lost his balance when midway and was finally drawn out half dead by the sympathetic neighbors who came to his assistance.

While it is not the intention of these articles to deal with politics of a partisan character, the history of the years of trying times of the Civil War possibly may at times trench very closely upon the forbidden ground. As an example of the feeling among local exponents of the Democratic faith in this section at this time, it might be interesting reading to peruse an editorial by the then Democratic editor of the Gazette. Under the caption of "The Weak Old Man," he writes as follows in the issue of December 29th, 1860.

"We doubt whether another nation on the earth now has so weak a head as ours. James Buchanan, with sorrow be it said, has shown himself by far the weakest executive that has ever attempted to guide our ship of State. At no time during his administration has he shown himself the man for the place, and now more than ever is he giving to the world a sickening exhibition of his weakness In his late message, he shows some good qualities of heart and a desire to see the ship of State weather the storm which threatens it, but neither that document nor anything in his course shows that he has the will,, the energy or the courage to meet the storm as did Andrew Jackson—to bid its furious waves, be calm, or command the rising sun of fanaticism to stand still.

"Look at the two men and compare their course. The times are similar, but how is it with the men? Now treason has lighted her beacon fires in the South, and secession, nullification and disunion are threatened on every side. The amiable Buchanan looks on and trembles, he sees no reason for this commotion, deplores its consequences, and tries to COAX the South to wait a little longer, but sees no way to stay the storm and makes no effort to do so. He has not even the courage to issue a respectable proclamation either for the purpose of appealing to the patriotism of the people or commanding what is right and prohibiting what is wrong. Not so with Jackson, South Carolina, the strong-minded sister who is now kicking up a muss did the same thing in his time—threatened nullification, threatened disobedience to the laws of Congress and threatened secession. Jackson heard it and he commanded the wayward girl to behave herself, told her there was no such thing as nullification, and that she must obey the laws of Congress—and she did so. Citizens of Philadelphia notified him that they were coming to Washington in a body and should demand that he change his policy and sign the bank bills. He replied, 'Tell them to come on, and by the Eternal I'll hang them all.' They did not come. A little of his spirit and energy at this time would work wonders, but we have it not. Now, when bloody treason finds a home in a half dozen states, when the cry of disunion and rebellion resounds from one end of the Union to the other, the Executive is paralized."

As early as the beginning of the year 1861 the question of road building and improvement was one of the live issues of this city and county, and on January 21st of that year a meeting was held at the courthouse for the purpose of taking measures for the improvement of the streets through this city leading to the county road. After a general discussion of the matter a committee of five was appointed to ascertain the length of the roadway to be improved, and the width of the track and the height of the center of the road, with the number of culverts necessary, and the meeting adjourned for a few days. This report was completed within three days and another meeting held at which it was determined to proceed under the plans proposed by the committee, and B. G. Lathrop, C. N. Fox and D. W. Aldrich were appointed to take charge of the work. Bids were called for for the improvement of the following streets: A street, from the County Road to Bridge; Bridge street, from the bridge to Main street; Main st., from Bridge street to The Lane; and The Lane to the County road, a total length of a little over a mile.

As an evidence of the importance of Redwood City as a water shipping point, it might be noted that during the week ending January 24, 1861, 14 vessels arrived at the port, all hailing from San Francisco and laden with cargoes of general merchandise. During the same week 18 vessels departed all destined for San Francisco with the exception of one which sailed for Stockton. The outgoing vessels all carried lumber and other timber products. This was far from an exceptional week's record, the numbers in some cases exceeding these figures.

House rent was no cheaper in those days than at present. In the issue of the paper of February 2, men of means were urged to build dwelling houses for rent. It was stated that there was not a single house in town vacant, and several inquiries were being made for homes by intending residents. That there was every prospect of the investment being profitable was urged by the statement that even a very common house could be rented for at least $15 per month.

REPORTS OF THE CITY OEEICERS

Surplus in Roosevelt Avenue Improvement Fund---Wooden Sidewalks Must Go.

Owing to the fact that City Surveyor Neuman had been unable to complete the new survey and plans for the improvement of districts 9 and 11, but little attention was given to the question of street work at the meeting of the Town Trustees Monday evening. All of the members were present when the roll was called by Clerk Plump.

But one bid was presented for the supply of water pipe decided upon at last meeting. This was from the United States Pipe Co., which offered to furnish 1500 feet of 6-inch pipe for $32.80 per ton, and 1000 feet of 4-inch pipe for $33.80 per ton. The bid was accepted.

For the work of laying 400 feet of sewer on Ninth street, A. Hess was the only bidder. He secured the contract at 17 cents per foot, and $17 for the required manhole.

G. W. Deleau, a property owner at 300 Oak street, in a communication, asked to be informed as to the reason for lack of improvement on that street, calling attention to the fact that the streets on either side had been completed some time since. The omission of this street was said to be due to the peculiar conditions surrounding its dedication. The Clerk was directed to invite Mr. Deleau to be present at the next meeting of the Council for the purpose of discussing the matter.

A communication was received from George S. Evans Womens Relief Corps inviting the Council to participate with them in their Decoration Day exercises. The invitation was accepted.

The United Gas & Electric Co. was granted permission to lay gas mains on Franklin street from Jefferson to Madison, and on Madison street to the County Road.

C. H. Woodhams made a written demand for the return of $3, which he claimed had been erroneously collected from him for a solicitor's license by Marshal Christ. The Mashal explained the collection of the license by stating that Mr. Woodhams had been soliciting for the sale of pianos and sewing machines. As it was shown that the articles mentioned were kept in stock by Woodhams in the regular way of trade it was the opinion of the Trustees that he had the same right to canvass for their sale as any other merchant for his goods and the money was ordered refunded.

The report of the Clerk showed that the receipts of his office for the month had been $71.

The report of Marshal Christ showed that the water collections for the past month had amounted to $718.30. The delinquent list had been reduced to $80, and there were but 24 vacant houses in the city.

City Treasurer Towne reported that the disbursements for the month had totaled $3574.23. There is a balance of $11698 in the general fund, while the library fund has a balance of $962.97 to its credit.

The Treasurer also reported that he had an unexpended balance of $1113.64 in the 8th district, or Roosevelt avenue improvement fund. As the improvement is complete, the treasurer was directed to report the amount to be refunded to property owners.

Poundmaster George Bettin reported that during the month he had killed 7 dogs and 1 had been redeemed. Eight horses and one cow had been impounded and later redeemed, with the exception of one horse, which had been sold. The poundmaster also tendered his resignation, which was accepted, to take effect June 1st.

The advertising contract of the Sunset Magazine was again up for discussion. While Clerk Plump reported that he had not received the marked copies asked for, it was stated that the page advertisement was being publised in each issue and that the promised booklets were nearly ready for printing. Much fault was found by the Trustees with the character of the advertisement, which does not accord fair treatment to this city. Although Redwood is contributing $30 per month toward the expense while San Mateo pays but $15 and South San Francisco nothing, the latter places are given much more prominence.

At the suggestion of the Board, City Surveyor Neuman withdrew his proposal for making a city map and setting grade monuments, and will submit a new one for monuments only. No attempt will be made at present to prepare an official map, as the expense of securing necessary data from the records would involve a large outlay.

The Street Superintendent was instructed to notify property owners on C street, from First to Second, and Second from C to D, to remove wooden sidewalks and replace them with either concrete or macadam as required by the ordinance.

An adjourned meeting will be held next Monday evening.

Another Boat Launched.

With the launching of W. A. Barstow's new boat, which occurred last Sunday morning, another handsome and speedy craft has been added to the list of pleasure launches on Redwood Creek. The new boat is an 18-footer, of the "compromise stern" model, and is neatly fiinished inside and out. Mr. Barstow has christened his new boat the "Alone," probably as a memento of the fact that is was built by himself "all alone." Shortly after the launching Mr. and Mrs. Barstow, accompanied by a party of friends, made a trial trip to the salt works and return.

L. E. Harris has taken the "Ruth" out of the water and will give her a thorough overhauling. The boat will be laid up about a month, and during that time her interior finish will be remodeled and she will receive a new coat of paint.

A movement is on foot looking to the formation of a club among those interested in pleasure boating. In the main, the orgainzation will be of a social nature, though it is considered that united action will result in remedying some unsatisfactory conditions.

Although the voting during Saturday was very heavy, th contest ended quietly, and without any great activity in voting being shown for any of the candidates The votes were counted immediately after the closing of thee ballot boxes, and long before the results fromPalo Alto were known, the Menlo vote showed Miss Fannie Casey to be easily the successful candidate, and chosen queen of the Fete.

From Friday evening May 14th whe the votes were last counted until Saturday evening May 15th, when the final count was made there was cast at MenloPark 5756 votes and atPalo Alto 425 votes. Of these Miss Fannie Casey, the successful candidate received in Menlo Park 3812 votes and in Palo Alto the total vote of 425. The chosen queen is a well-known and popular young lady of Menlo Park, and on the day and evening of the Fete will exercise her short soverignity with all due grace and dignity amidst the plaudits and congratulations of her loyal and affectionate subjects. The committe who had charge of the counting of the ballots was composed of the following gentlemen: Rev. Father Harrington John J. Downey, Chas. A. Brady, Dan Driscoll and James T. O'Keefe and they discharged their duty in a careful, fair and painstaking manner, so that every candidate received credit for every vote that was cast for her. Preparations are goine on actively for the entertainment under the direction of Professor Carrington, Mrs. Jas T. O'Keefe, Mrs. Downey and Mrs. Halleran and the earnest labors of this committee along with the keen interestand delight of the children, give assurance of a most beautiful and successful program. It has been found necessary on account of circumstances to postpone the entertainment from May 28th, to the following Friday, June 4th.

The hall will be especially prepared and decorated for the occasion with greens and Roses, and this with the calcium lights which will be used, the music, the singing, the costumes of the children and the royal regalia of the Queen and her court will make a picture of beauty that can hardly be surpassed. Mrs. C. W. Smith passed away at a hospital in Palo Alto Saturday after a lingering illness. She was buried in Mounatin View Cemetery, Oakland, on Tuesday of this week Mrs. Smith was a native of Massachusetts but had been long a resident of this state. Deceased was a refined and cultured woman who took pleasure in makingg others happy, in fact her whole life is one of noble deeds. She suffered much during her last illness but bore her sufferings bravely and with true Christian fortitude. To know her was to love her for her gentleness and kindness Her married life was one of extreme happiness and her husband, Mr. C. W. Smith, has the sympathy of the entire community in his sad bereavement. He was greatly devoted to his wife and her loss he keenly feels.

A threatened roughhouse at the opera house last Saturday night was nipped in the bud by Rosskopf, the hyonotist, who was giving the show He accomplished it partly by appealing to the chivalry of the men present partly by suggestion of physical force and partly by open intimidation. He apologized to the women present, as well he might, for calling a disturber "a dirty curr"; but he had no further interruptions. It is only fair to say that Rosskopf showed cleverness in preventing serious disorder.

The day of the roughhouse atPalo Alto playhouses is probably past. The roughhouse of bygone years usually came direct from Menlo, the leaders bringing along a few quart bottles to grace the riot. Men lack the chief incentive to break up a show when they are entirely sober. Menlo Park goes dry in July. Pax requiescat.—Palo Altoan.

Honestly would'nt the above statement make you weary? Would'nt it actually cause a jackass to kick out his brains? Why Mr. Editor of the Palo Altoan there will be roughhousing in your village long after Menlo goes on the water wagon and long after the Jordans and Clarkes and the other pinhead professors have passed to the "Shadows feared by Man". Where ever there is a congregation of hair-brained students there is certain to be a roughhouse. They need no liquor to stimulate them to deeds of valor, they are capable of doing most anything that is evil.

Michael Lydon, who was taken from here to the County hospital last winter, died at that place last Friday and was buried in the hospital cemetery the following day. Deceased was born in Ireland 46 years ago but came to Mayfield in his boyhood and attended the grammar school and grew to manhood there. He learned the painter's trade and at an early date went to Redding in the northern part of the state. where he spent many years of his life. He wandered back to this locality a few years ago but his health was gone having been shatteredd by years of dissipation and riotous living. About 25 years ago Mike Lydon left Mayfield to make his way in the world. He was well equipped for the struggle possessing a sound mind, in a healthy body and a good trade, but it is the old old story often told. He took to drinking early in his career and was never able to reach the high ideals of his youth. Dissipation had made its inroads on his once rebust form becoming a mere shadow of his former self he tottered back to the scenes of his youth only to cross hills to the poor house, there to die unknown among strangers and to be buried in a pauper's grave. The failure of his life should serve as a striking example to some of the young men of the village who are inclined to follow in the foot steps of this unfortunate young man.

CANNOT BE ABANDONED

Judge Buck Decdies Important Case Affecting San Bruno School District.

The suit of A. A. La Reaux against the school trustees of the San Bruno school district that has been pending in the Superior Court for two years was decided by Judge Buck last Thursday. The suit was brought by plaintiff to enjoin the school board from abandoning the present school building and he has been successful.

In the year 1907 George A. Hensley and others made a deed of three lots of land at San Bruno, this County, to the San Bruno Park School District of this County for school purposes. with a provision in the deed that the school district should erect thereon, on or before August of this year, a school house of the value of $5000.00.

The School District, by its Trustees took possession of said lots and erected thereon a school house of the value of $2500.00 and have for almost two years, and now are occupying said lots and house for school purposes. In the month of May of last year the restrictions placed in said deed as to the value of the improvements to be placed on said lots were withdrawn and abandoned.

The attempted abandonment of said restiction, while not in proper form, precludes the grantors from taking any advantage of the restrictions in the deed, and the title to the lots for school purposes is vested in the school district.

By a majority vote of the electors of said school district the trustees have been directed to purchase and have purchased a new site for school purposes, and the trustees have been directed by the same vote to erect thereon a new school house.

At the hearing in this matter it was admitted that the purpose was to remove the school to the new building as soon as it is completed and to abandon and give up the old site, the defendants claiming that the school district has no title to the property where the school house is now located and where the school district has been and now is holding school, and hence it was not necessary to vote on a change of location of the school house.

The law,—although of long standing, seems to have been inaptly drawn. Whenever the school district by vote so directs, the trustees must purchase school lots, and if the school district so directs, build schoolhouses,—all being done by a majority vote. If the school district wishes to change the location of the school house it requires a two-thirds vote.

It his been held by our Supreme Court that the question of title to real estate cannot be inquired into in a proceeding of this kind. But where the question is incidental merely, it is proper for the Court to be satisfied upon the subject of title.

It appears from the record in this case that the school district is, and for some time past has been in possession of the lots of land mentioned in the complaint, using them for school purposes, and under such circumstances as to authorize its continued use for such purposes. The mere fact of possession was prima facie evidence of ownership.

The question of paramount title cannot be put in issue in this proceeding. To be sure the answer filed herein set forth the fact that the school district didnot intend to abandon the present school house, site, but to keep the same for school purposes. But the evidence shows conclusively that it is the intention of the school district to abandon the present school house as soon as the new one is completed.

In other words, stripped of all subterfuge, it appears that the school district intends to change the location of the present school house to a place about one-half mile from its present location, not as the law provides by a two-thirds vote of the electors of the school district, but by a majority vote of the electors.

There is no law warranting any such proceeding and the Court has not been enlightened upon this matter by and brief in the matter of the proposed removal.

As much as this Court would like to carry out the wish of the majority, such aid must nevertheless be extended in strict accordance with the law. The powers of the school trustees are limited and wisely so.

The law provides a plain and simple method to carry out the proposition of change in the location of a school house and if the electors seek to evade that law the Court will not aid them.

The school district must proceed to that end in the way provided by law. The writ will issue as prayed for.

May 19th. 1909.

GEO. H. BUCK,
Judge.

BUSINESS OF THE SUPERVISOR BOARD

Many Bidders for Construction Of New Bridge Work On County Roads.

Selvers were sworn and testified to the genuineness of the signatures to the petition A. Lind Thomas McConnell and R. N. Neatherton were appointed commissioners for the district.

On motion of Blackburn, seconded by McEvoy, the bid of Doyle, being the lowest, was accepted.

Donald McKenzie, Superintendent of the Courthouse construction, sent a communication to the board in which he complained that contractors Rainey & Phillips in setting the eagles above the east and west corners of the building did not comply with their contract. It called for one solid plate when the contractors put in four. The communication was referred to the Courthouse Committee.

The application of G. Tamucci to peddle fish and vegetables in San Bruno was rejected.

Casey was granted further time to report in the matter of installing of drop gates at the crossing at San Bruno Casey stated that he had called upon the railroad officials but they were not ready to proceed with the work.

The complaint of certain residents of San Bruno regarding the location of the Spring Valley flume at that place was taken up.

McEvoy suggested that it would be well to have the records searched in order to ascertain the right of the company in the controversy. On motion of Blackburn, H. O. Hiener was employed to make the necessary search and report at a later meeting.

Francis reported in reference to the two objectionable crossings at Long Bridge. He said he had seen the officials of the Ocean Shore Railroad Co.and they could offer no relief as there were no funds to do any work. The officials were cited to appear at the next meeting of the board.

The petition signed by E. J. Tobin and other residents of the first township, presented at the last meeting, asking that a fifty-foot road way be laid out in San Pedro Valley from the Ocean Shore depot to San Pedro Terrace to the road leading to Halfmoon Bay was rejected.- None of the petitioners appeared though having been invited to do so by the board.

P. Keller represented the petition signed by the residents of Vista Grande asking that the telephone poles be removed from the side walk of the Mission road.. He made a strong argument on behalf of the petition. The matter was referred to Casey and surveyor Neuman to report at the next meeting. Keller also complained that there was no pound master at Vista Grande and cattle were allowed to run at large. He was informed by Casey that there was a pound master in the Crocker Tract and he would be notified.

On motion of Blackburn the purchase of an automobile for the sheriff's office was postponed indefinitely.

At the suggestion of Casey the calims of E. B. & A. L. Stone Co. will be allowed at a special meeting to be held on Staurday May 22.

Mrs. J. H. Diggles, representing the Woman's Improvement club of Lomita Park, addressed the board in reference to a petition presented at a previous meeting complaining of an overflow caused by drain pipes in the park. Casey promised to give the matter his immediate attention.

C. E. Peacock, representing the Direct Line Telephone Co., expained his system to the board. The members were well satisfied with it and directed Mr. Peacock to present a bid for installing the work in the new Courthoure at the next meeting.

A map of San Carlos Park was accepted and filed.

Hall C. Ross presented two resolutions adopted at the recent meeting of the Peninsula Promotion League, one asking that the board accept and maintain what is known as the automobile boulevard in the First township, and a second one asking that steps be taken to lay out and ascertain the cost of a road from the San Francisco line along the bay shore into the body of the county.

In a brief address Mr. Ross said it was generally desired that the county take over the boulevard and place it in good condition. The Spring Valley Water company through whose land the road runs, was ready to deed the right of way to the county as soon as the road became public property.

Addresses in support of the resolution were made by W. B. Martin, L. E. Burks, W. L. Matlock, Douglass S. Watson, L. H. Newbert, E. I. Woodman and others.

H. W. Brown of Colma, reminded the board that its duty was to maintain the present public roads of the county before taking up an enterprise that concerned the wealthy automobilists of the state. He suggested that the boulevard be made a toll road and by this means a sufficient income could be had to keep it in condition.

W. J. Marin made at strong plea for the boulevard. Casey explained that owing to the condition of his funds he could not keep the boulevard in repair.

McEvoy stated that the supervisors had all they could do to keep their own roads in condition and were not in a position to help tokeep other impoverished districts.

After considerable discussion Casey finally agreed to accept the boulevard on condition that he be given the sum of $1500 to put it in repair.

The claim of John Nealis was allowed for $3497.35. The First National Bank had an assignment from Nealis for $3987.75 but E. B. & A. L. Stone filed a claim against the amount ifor $490.40 and this sum was deducted from the amount of the original claim although the district attorney held that the assignment was perfectly legal.

An adjournment was token to Saturday, May 22d, at 10 o'clock.

Redwood Wins Game.

"Wait until we get at this twirler Fox that you fellows have and we will show him the game" was the remark one of the Lash Bitters team made before the game had started. The boys are still waiting to see Robert shown the game and along with their wait they cannot forget the quiet, pleasant smile that lit Robert's countenance as he shot those deceiving benders across the plate.

The local team can play the game as well as any club that has been here this year if they but get started on the right foot, this was easy to be seen in last Sundays game when the boys won easily by 8 to 5.

James Maloney of Menlo put up a nice game at first and even for a large man covered considerable ground. At the bat he really slugged out the king pin hit of the day by byhis pretty bungle with men on bases. Ed Heaney as usual put ginger into the game and had his arm in good shape.

The game which was to have been played tomorrow between the Yosemites and the locals will not take place. Messrs. Fox, Beeger Guilfoy and Comper will be out of the game so it was decided to let the game pass rather than to play without these good players. A game, however, will take place between the second team and a Palo Alto club.

Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people rigth here in Redwood City.

Samuel Hall, living at 507 Stambaugh st., Redwoodo City, Cal says: "I was troubled more or less for three or four years, by a disordered condition of my kidneys. I did not suffer from headaches or backache, the most annoying symptom of my trouble being a frequent action of the kidney secretions forcing me to arise many times during the night. Doan's Kidney Pills were at length brought to my attention and deciding to give them a trial I procured a box. I used them according to directions and soon the kidney secretions became normal and regular in action. I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Assessor's Instructions

To Owners of Real Estate and Personal Property.

The law requires each and every person who owns any class of property to annually, during the months of March, April or May, file a statement with the Assessor or his deputy in the county where the property is located. You should give a statement of all property owned by you on the first Monday in March at 12 o'clock m.

If you hold mortgages against others send in a mortgage statement showing amount due on each mortgage on the first Monday in March at 12 o'clock m.

No change can be made by the Assessor after he turns his books over to the Board of Supervisors on the first Monday in July. The Boards then sets as a Board of Equalization during the month of July.

Remember, if you fail to give in your assessment you fail to comply with the law and may cause yourself, the Assessor and Tax Collector much trouble, and very likely cause yourself expense.

It is much more satisfactory to the Assessor, as well as to yourself, to have your assessment correct when you go to pay your taxes.

C. D. HAYWARD,
Assessor, San Mateo County.
